

Our Product

UNIT TEST equipments are totally manufactured in Malaysia. As a leader in the industry, we design, fabricate, assemble and calibrate our products, a strategic vertical integration that enabled us to maintain our pricing competitively within the domestic and international market. UNIT TEST's strength is focused on it's competence, that is we act as a one stop source of supply. We have a wide range of models together with accessories to suite every individual needs.

Concrete Application

Unit Test concrete compression machines are develop to accommodate the various needs for its application. This allow users a choice of selection from laboratory use or for site use that comes with complete specifications for various multiple testing.

User also have the choice of manual or automated machines. And for application that requires a hard copy print-out, our range of digital models enables a complete hook-up to a computer for futher application and print-out.

Beside our compression machines, we have a wide range of accessories for most of your concrete applications.

Soil Application

For soil application, Unit Test CBR testing machines also provides a choice of laboratory or field application. Depending on application, user could select a hand operated or motorised unit.

A range of accessories for various soil applications are available too.

Asphalt-premix Application

For premix application, likewise Unit Test marshall test machines are available for the various applications required. Please do make an enquiry for specific requirements.

